“If there is anywhere a place that encompasses the perfect match of climate, soil, costs, human resources, and, above all, freedom for creativity and minimal bureaucracy to hinder the genuine development of a new and exceptional viticulture, that place is undoubtedly Argentina.”

“Argentina’s potential for wine making is amazing and the diversity of its future prospects is dramatic.”

Robert Parker

“He has clients at the best addresses in every top viticultural region of the world, including...one of the world’s most exciting new regions, Argentina.”

“...the potential and challenge for world class quality from Argentina’s finest vineyards continues to be more and more evident with each new vintage, not only with Malbec, but also with Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Chardonnay, all noble varietals.”
